DESIGNING FOR THE INDOOR-OUTDOOR LIFESTYLE WITH ATTENTION TO DETAIL AND CRAFTSMANSHIP

Eugenia believes that the design process should be engaging, inspiring and fun. Eugenia and her team take cues from their clients and respond with inventive solutions drawing on Eugenia's vast experience working on both high-end residential and elite commercial projects. Among the many important considerations in developing the creative thread that drives each project forward are her clients' lifestyles, location and natural light, interior architecture and consideration of how spaces will be used.

The EJ Interior Design team specializes in projects across the Bay Area, Colorado, Idaho and beyond. In a recent Stinson Beach project (images seen here), everything was designed to bring in the views, EJ Interior Design used a neutral palette focused on texture to tell the story of its seaside surroundings. The barriers between inside and outside seem to melt away in this dreamy beach house. This is a common thread in the firm's projects.

Founded in 1993, EJ Interior Design has been a leader, providing the highest level of service. Over the years, Eugenia has developed a strong team, including her daughter Emma Jesberg, who joined the firm in 2020 and secured relationships with tradespeople and vendors committed to quality.
